

DigitalGeorgetown License Agreement

This Agreement sets out the terms on which you grant Georgetown University (the “University”) rights to deposit and store materials submitted by you to DigitalGeorgetown and to make your materials available to the public.

Description of Your Submission (the “Works”). (choose one)

- Materials listed on the attached Works Submitted page
- All materials submitted now and all future materials you submit

Non-exclusive License. You grant to the University a perpetual, non-exclusive, world-wide, royalty-free, sub-licensable license to:

- a. deposit and store electronic versions of the Works in DigitalGeorgetown;
- b. publish and make the Works available to view and download for free and to use for non-commercial, research, educational or other academic purposes, or for personal use;
- c. create back-up copies of the Works for security and preservation purposes; and
- d. convert the Works, without changing the content, to any other format or medium necessary for preservation, storage and use of the Works.

Your Representations. You represent and warrant that:

- a. the Works are your original work;
- b. to the best of your knowledge, the Works do not infringe on anyone else’s copyright or other legal rights and do not contain anything which is false, defamatory, unlawful, misleading or deceptive;
- c. if the submission contains material for which you do not hold copyright and that exceeds fair use, you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner to grant the University the rights required by this license, and that such third-party owned material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text or content of the submission;
- d. you have the right, power and authority to agree to these terms and conditions and to grant the University the rights set forth herein; and
- e. if any of the Works were sponsored or supported by a party other than the University (e.g., a government agency, corporate sponsor, or private funder), you have complied with any prior review or other obligations or requirements imposed by that contract or agreement.

Removal from DigitalGeorgetown. You acknowledge and agree that the University is not obliged to deposit or store the Works in DigitalGeorgetown and may elect to do so or not in its sole discretion.

Waiver. You waive and release the University from any and all claims and liability in connection with its use of the Works, and you acknowledge and agree that the University’s use of the Works will proceed in reliance upon such waiver and release.

By signing below, you confirm your acceptance of this Agreement.
